Market Recap

Financial markets spent much of May focused on the debt ceiling issue, but a resolution in early June allowed attentions to shift back to economic data and the Fed. Although several of the leading economic indicators signaled weakness, the preponderance of concurrent indicators continued to exhibit surprising strength. The ISM manufacturing index logged a seventh straight month below 50 in May, indicating contraction in the manufacturing sector. The ISM services index unexpectedly fell from 51.9 to 50.3, the second lowest level in three years and just a fraction above 50.

The deteriorating outlook by U.S. purchasing managers was countered by another strong employment report as non-farm payrolls topped the median forecast for the 14th straight month with a gain of +339k in May, well above the +195k median forecast. Upward revisions added an additional +93k jobs to the March and April counts. Nonfarm payroll growth is now averaging +331k per month in 2023, down from +399k last year. The unemployment rate did climb from a five-decade low of 3.4% to 3.7%, but with payroll growth above 300k per month and the unemployment rate below 4%, the labor market clearly remains too tight.

The May inflation data was a mixed bag. Headline CPI rose just +0.1% and the year-over-year headline was a bright spot, dropping from +4.9% to +4.0%, down sharply from last year's +9.1% peak. Core CPI, which excludes food and energy, was stubbornly high, increasing by +0.4% in May, the sixth straight month at or above +0.4%. On a year-over-year basis, the core was up +5.3%. Although down from +5.5% in April, it was the 18th consecutive month above +5.0%, and more than 2½ times the Fed's 2% target.

Financial markets spent the first two weeks of June gravitating toward the idea that the FOMC would not raise the fed funds target for an eleventh straight time at the mid-June meeting. Prodded along by hints from Fed speakers, a few tentative signs of retreating inflationary pressures, and knowledge that the 500 basis points of rate increases implemented so far were still working through the system, markets concluded the FOMC would pause. Fed officials obliged, voting unanimously to leave the fed funds target unchanged in a range of 5-5.25%. However, the new summary of economic projections, the so-called dot plot, conveyed a much more hawkish note than markets had anticipated. The forecast called for another 50 basis points of rate hikes, with a median estimate of 5.625% by yearend, up from 5.125% at the March meeting. In addition, the median estimate for the end of 2024 rose by 25 basis points to 4.625%. This hawkish forecast likely reflected a desire to keep the markets from reading too much into the pause and thereby easing financial conditions prematurely.

The committee's message was reinforced by Chair Powell during his remarks at the post meeting press conference. Powell noted that core inflation readings remain well above the Fed's target and that the process of getting inflation back to the 2% target "has a long way to go." Powell acknowledged they have "not seen a lot of progress" on core inflation and that "we want to see it moving down decisively." Powell also said, "Nearly all committee participants expected it will be appropriate to raise interest rates somewhat further by the end of the year."

The frustratingly resilient economic performance and hawkish Fed forced bond yields higher through the month of June. Prior expectations for rate cuts later this year have all but vanished as the recession many predicted remains elusive. Fed funds futures now indicate a yearend overnight rate of 5.38%, up from 4.91% at the end of May. The yield on the two-year Treasury note rose almost 50 basis points during the month, closing at a yield of 4.90%.

S&P rates the creditworthiness of individual bonds from: AAA highest to D lowest.

Investing in fixed income securities involves interest rate risk, credit risk, and inflation risk. Interest rate risk is the possibility that bond prices will decrease because of an interest rate increase. When interest rates rise, bond prices and the values of fixed income securities fall. When interest rates fall, bond prices and the values of fixed income securities rise. Credit risk is the risk that a company will not be able to pay its debts, including the interest on its bonds. Inflation risk is the possibility that the interest paid on an investment in bonds will be lower than the inflation rate, decreasing purchasing power.

Cash alternatives typically include money market securities and U.S. treasury bills. Investing in such cash alternatives involves inflation risk. In addition, investments in money market securities may involve credit risk and a risk of principal loss. Because money market securities are neither insured nor guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency, there is no guarantee the value of your investment will be maintained at $1.00 per share, and your shares, when sold, may be worth more or less than what you originally paid for them. U.S. Treasury bills are subject to market risk if sold prior to maturity. Market risk is the possibility that the value, when sold, might be less than the purchase price.

Investing in stock securities involves volatility risk, market risk, business risk, and industry risk. The prices of most stocks fluctuate. Volatility risk is the chance that the value of a stock will fall. Market risk is the chance that the prices of all stocks will fall due to conditions in the economic environment. Business risk is the chance that a specific company's stock will fall because of issues affecting it. Industry risk is the chance that a set of factors particular to an industry group will adversely affect stock prices within the industry.
